Honeymooners searching for a great, romantic escape and soulful respite will find a perfect haven in the stylish and ever-elegant Amorita Resort.

Amorita or "Little Love" in Spanish gloriously stands on top of a seaside cliff at the northeastern strip of the famous Alona Beach in Panglao Island, Bohol. Guests of this tropical paradise are treated to a show-stopping 180-degree view of the Bohol Sea and an easy access to the sparkling white sands and mesmerizing, blue waters of the Alona Beach.

Accommodations

Amorita has 20 deluxe rooms, housed in two-story structures, amidst the lush and lovely gardens of the property. Each room features two queen-sized beds, a spacious bathroom with rainfall-type shower and either a veranda (for ground-level units) that opens to the garden or a balcony (for second-level units) that looks out to the manicured landscape.

For a more indulgent and private escape, cozy up in one of the six Ocean View Villas or the eight Garden View Villas. The Ocean View Villa, perched a few distance away from the edge of the cliff, offers guests a spectacular view of the Bohol Sea and the nearby islands. The Garden View Villa, on the other hand, is located inland and stands shaded amongst the tropical greenery. Each villa is stylishly appointed with spacious, "open-plan" bathrooms, comfortable king-sized bed, breakfast nook and daybed, individually-controlled air-conditioning unit, overhead ceiling fan, wide-screen LCD cable TV, I-pod docking station, mini bar refrigerator and fine, designer furniture. It is also equipped with its own pocket garden, a private plunge pool and sun deck ideal for those intimate moments.
