

BEACH & BEYOND THE BOHOL BEACH CLUB

Sink your feet into the pristine, white sands of the Bohol Beach Club, a sprawling beach property of more than 180 rooms and suites tucked away in the beautiful island of Panglao in Bohol.

Guests of the BBC are lured by its crystal clear waters, abundant marine life, enticing breeze and tantalizing food selections.

In the evening, acoustic music and lavish cultural shows serenade lucky travelers, while they enjoy a gastronomical feast of various grilled fare, fresh vegetables and seafood and local fruits.

Quaint, mini-bars are strategically situated throughout the resort to accommodate guests staying at the outer annexes – the Amihan and Habagat wings.

Guests may also choose to dine at any of BBC's three restaurants—Kalubihan, Agotata or Tacloban—all of which are a stone's throw away from the resort's comfortable accommodations and superb swimming pools.

For those wishing to relax by the beach, hammocks and lounge chairs are plentiful, along with tiki huts and bars from which fresh, cool fruit drinks are always available. As for the more adventurous travelers, diving, snorkeling or cruising along the coast on the glass-bottomed boat all guarantee a sampling of Bohol's rich marine bio-diversity.

An outdoor Jacuzzi, and game room with billiards, darts and chess round up the range of activities for those who would rather take it slow.

If cultural immersion is what you are after, Bohol has a rich history of bygone traditions and ornate architecture to offer. Sign up for day tours and visit Bohol's countryside. Cruise along the famous Loboc River on board the floating restaurant. Visit Baclayon Church, the second oldest stone church in the Philippines. Hike up the view deck and see Bohol's Chocolate Hills. Witness the world's smallest primate—the tarsier—at the Wildlife Sanctuary.

And go souvenir shopping for your friends and family back home.

After a long day, come home to the warm service of BBC's staff and be dazzled by the glorious sunset as you cool-off by the beach. Cap your day off with a romantic dinner set-up for two and a massage service in the comforts of your own suite.

At the Bohol Beach Club, clearly there is no room for boredom. Instead, there's only room for romance, celebration and complete relaxation and rejuvenation.
